

#4 Bridge Loops

Bridge Loops join other runs together to create multiple pathways for the current. This reduces the stress on each connection and makes the system more robust and more durable - the goal of "Net" wiring.

A vertical run up the stairhole and, if you can cut the slot through the Base Floor, into the cellar, ties all the Horizontal Runs together for a robust wiring plan.

